"Who Am I This Time?" Guest in the Pulpit: Reverend Barbara Child
Reverend Mary Ann Macklin and Reverend Bill Breeden

Join us as we welcome Rev. Barbara Child into our pulpit. Reverend Child is an Accredited Interim Minister, serving this year as Interim Senior Minister of the First Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Ann Arbor. As the culmination of her weekend's consulting with this congregation's ministers, Board, staff, and other lay leaders, she will share her insights on what she has discovered about us – about who we have been, who we are now, and who we might want to become. A special baby dedication, led by Reverend Macklin and Reverend Breeden, will take place during the worship services.

To schedule a Faith in Action Forum, contact Jackie Hall, jmhall@indiana.edu.

Feb 5, David Rollo, "Peak Oil Reform" Peak Oil is the concept that long before the world "runs out" of oil, the beginning of the decline from peak oil production will bring sharp spikes in price as global demand continues to grow. It offers a reason parallel to global climate change for moving swiftly to develop renewable alternatives and practice conservation. Mr. Rollo's remarks will end before 11:15, with discussion to follow until 11:30 a.m.

Feb 19, Dr. Rob Stone, "Healthcare for All"

Baby Dedication Dates: February 12th and May 14th

Our congregation will be setting aside special time in several worship services throughout the year for the rite of passage: dedication for babies. The next date is FEBRUARY 12th. Baby dedications are intended as celebrations of the miracle of life, the sacredness of the child-parent bond, and the importance of a strong reciprocal relationship between family and a supportive faith community. To be included, please contact Reverend Mary Ann Macklin at 332-3695 or macklin@uubloomington.org. If you would like your baby to be dedicated on February 12, please contact Mary Ann by February 6th!

MAM's MCUM Musings

On a snowy day last Wednesday, I, along with congregation member Beth Hollingsworth, drove over to Monroe County United Ministries (MCUM). We took a tour of the building, and we learned about MCUM's programs and resources. MCUM operates two main programs for Monroe County residents: emergency assistance to families experiencing a financial crisis, and subsidized childcare for low-income working families. 70% of MCUM's support comes from the local community. Our congregation has a solid history with MCUM. Our annual holiday food basket donations go to MCUM. Also, in recent years the offertory collection from our Christmas Eve services has also been donated to MCUM. This year, we sent our most generous contribution thus far, $1,071. Again, thank you all for your generosity.

Here's some specifics regarding MCUM's activities in 2005:

- provided affordable, high-quality childcare to 191 children;
- served two meals and two snacks to each enrolled child, providing 75% of their daily nutritional needs;
- provided parent workshops on topics such as safety, discipline, reading with your child, and employment issues;
- distributed the equivalent of more than 47,000 meals from their food pantry;
- provided financial assistance to 115 families in the form of rent, mortgage and utilities assistance;
- supplied 149 families with vouchers to Opportunity House, where they can shop for needed clothing and household items.

I, along with Beth Hollingsworth (and others), are interested in strengthening our congregational ties to MCUM and the good work they do in our local community. Beth is currently exploring the possibility of creating a "Monroe County United Ministries Task Force" as part of our congregation's Social Justice work. If you are interested in being a part of these efforts, please contact Beth Hollingsworth at: btholli@insightbb.com

Warmly, Mary Ann

MAM (Reverend Mary Ann Macklin)

Forum on Africa February 15

Salih Booker, Executive Director of Africa Action, will speak on how the U.S. and the global community can help reverse the dangerous trends of increasing poverty and infant mortality in sub-Saharan Africa, on Wednesday, February 15 at 7:00 p.m. at the Monroe County Library auditorium. Our RESULTS task force encourages attendance at this important forum.

Overnight Housing Needed for Patients at Planned Parenthood

Can you help? Our Indiana legislature requires that a "physician or a nurse practitioner" read a one-page document to all those seeking an abortion. This document must be read 18 hours prior to the procedure, which means two trips to the clinic. As fewer and fewer facilities are available, some clients drive five hours to a clinic. This necessitates, in some cases, an overnight stay. Would you be willing to house overnight a woman in these circumstances, here in Bloomington? Contact Marjorie Crosby at 339-2572.

Benefit Auction for Bloomington Sisters Cities Project Feb 10 will include a silent auction, food, and music by Afro-Hoosier Intl at Fountain Square Ballroom, 7-11 p.m. Details, email Cynthia Roberts-Hall at cynhall@bloomington.in.us. Everyone's invited!

Team Ministry Our congregation is served by a ministry team: Rev. Mary Ann Macklin (82%); Rev. Bill Breeden (82%). Each minister serves the entire congregation; each has specific areas of focus.

Monthly Film Series Features

Film on Terrorism

The monthly Adult Religious Education film series will host a potluck supper at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 4, with a film to follow: "The Terrorist", dir. Santosh Sivan, 1999, rated R.

The DVD release of the previously scheduled Moolaade has been delayed. We are substituting another outstanding film. The Terrorist is the fictional story of a 19-year-old girl, Malli (Avesha Dharker) who, in an unnamed country (shot in India), grew up as a guerilla fighter. She is greatly honored to accept a mission as a suicide bomber. But as she prepares to die and kill for the movement, she becomes open to life. Few films are as beautifully photographed; Malli's face, and the world around her, tremble with beauty. Film critic Roger Ebert lists The Terrorist as one of the great films. It is rated R, but usually looks away from violence. A discussion about terrorism is sure to follow the screening. Childcare may be reserved by calling 332-3695 by February 1.

Your Attention, Please! Celebration of the Diversity of Poetry with Music, Fri, Feb. 17

We hope you have selected and prepared to attend the Diversity of Poetry with Music on Friday, February 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the Meeting Room of our church. There is no admission and the community is invited, so bring all your friends and poetry and music lovers. A special and unique program will grace your senses.

The Year of the Dog

Happy Chinese New Year! If you were at the second service this Sunday you may have wondered what the dragon parade was all about and what it has to do with Religious Education (RE). If you were here for the first service you may have noticed the smell of frying moon cakes wafting through the halls.

Our 4 and 5th graders are using the Holidays and Holy Days curriculum this year. This is a classic UU curriculum which has been used for over 20 years. Children learn about World Religions by celebrating their holidays. It is based on the premise that holidays are not something to talk about; they are something to DO.

The teachers also discuss common beliefs connected to the celebration that Unitarian Universalists share. For example, although most of us do not look to the sign of the dragon to bring us good fortune, UU's do believe "That we can all help to make good things happen." Next week they are planning to make Kachina dolls in celebration of Powamu, the Hopi Bean Planting Celebration.

We are having so much fun in RE, it is too bad everyone can not be involved! But fear not, everyone is invited to attend one of our Family Worship, led by Rev. Emily Manvel Leite. The first one was a rousing success. The next ones will be Feb. 1st and March 1st. Dinner is at 5:15, and the service starts at 6:00.

Many thanks to Bill Dudgeon and Carmen Simich-Dudgeon for their generous donation of a Brio™ Train table to RE!! It has become a very popular feature in our childcare room; the toddlers love it.

Notably For Newcomers
UUs and the Bible

Unitarian Universalists regard the Bible as one of many important religious texts but don't consider it the exclusive source of truth, nor are we biblical literalists. Although UUs have a deep respect for the Bible and esteem some of its content as great literature, it isn't the central sacred text in our religion because we also revere the sacred literature of many religions other than the Judeo-Christian. As Robert Fulghum has written, "A religion is not contained in a single book; there's something religious in almost any book."

In many of our congregations, the Bible is read and studied as any other sacred text might be, from time to time, and not routinely. It is one text among many. We UUs believe that we should read the Bible as we read other literary material -- with reason and a critical eye.

We hold that revelation is not sealed (and therefore not definitively reportable), but is ongoing. UUs aspire to truth as wide as our investigations and imaginations will allow. We seek to find the truth anywhere, universally, not in a single book.

What's the Deal With Those 100% Signs?

Every one of us gives something to this church. We give of our weekend time by getting out of bed on Sunday mornings to worship. We give of our weekday time by attending choir rehearsals or committee meetings. We give of our hearts and minds as part of a larger liberal religious community that gathers weekly to reflect on the world around us and within us, and to celebrate and support one another on our spiritual journeys.

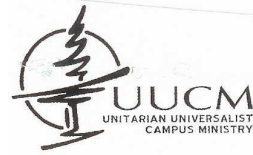

And we give of our money. We reach into our pockets to contribute to the Sunday Plate, which benefits our congregation and outreach to others. We make pledges every spring to fund the next year's operating budget.

We also receive much from the church and this community in return. In the next two months leading up to Commitment Sunday on April 2nd, you will hear individuals reflect, both in the Prologue and during services, on why they give to the church and what they receive in return.

This year, the Stewardship Committee asks you to live the 2006-2007 campaign theme, Light the Fire of Commitment, and make a pledge to support the church financially. We are taking a radical new approach to the campaign this year by focusing on the fact that it's not how much you give, it's that you give.

We have not set a monetary goal for this fiscal year's campaign. Rather, we have set a participation goal: that every single family and member of our congregation, members and friends alike, make a pledge. This goal of 100% participation cannot be accomplished without support from each of us. A significant pledge means something different for each person. Every single pledge, no matter the size, is an important gesture of your commitment, and will help us reach our collective goal. The future, the growth and the potential of this church are not tied to a few people in this congregation giving more, but are tied to everyone giving something. Please plan to commit to helping us achieve our inaugural goal of 100%, and see Jan Skinner, Stewardship Committee Chair for details, jskinner@bloomington.in.us.

Campus Ministry

Notes Indiana Unitarian Universalist Campus Ministry, (IUUCM), our campus

ministry group, is beginning its second semester. We have moved to the Poplar Room in the Union, where we meet every Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. We are a combination of undergraduates and graduate students who get together every week for worship, community and spiritual growth. This semester we are exploring the curriculum "Unitarian Universalist Identity." If you are part of the campus community, please drop by this Wednesday or any Wednesday you have the time. --Heather Hansen, Campus Ministry Assistant

Young Religious UUs

Meetings Our high school youth (ages 14-20) will meet in Room 110 from 6:00-8:00 p.m. on the following Sundays in the next month or so: Feb 5, Feb 12, Feb 26, Mar 5. Info, Margie or Drew Schrader, maschrad@indiana.edu.

Note From The President:

On Wednesday, January 18th, the Board watched a DVD produced by the UUA about four congregations that are considered to be "breakthrough congregations". The congregations were chosen not only because of their growth but also by the energy and commitment of their members. Interestingly, one of the congregations, the First Unitarian in Dallas, Texas, is now the home of one of our former ministers, Laurel Hallman.

The UUA has encouraged congregations to copy and distribute this DVD so others can be inspired by learning more about them. Copies are available to borrow to watch and share with others. If you or your group would like to borrow one, please contact our church office.

Of the many reports we received for the January board meeting, one was from Rev. Emily Marvel Leite. Rev. Leite has been assisting the church in a variety of ways. There has been some confusion regarding her position. In Rev. Leite's report, she explained that she had recently created an analogy to help clarify what her position is here at the church. Rev. Leite wrote:

I am hired on a contract basis to provide specific services to the church, which include Family Worship services, occasional Sunday morning services, and leadership in Adult Religious Education. Being hired by contract is similar to hiring a carpenter in your home: you hire her or him for a specific project, with a specific end point. You hire a carpenter because you do not have time to do the work yourself and/or because are unable to do this type of work. You dictate the general shape of the project, but the methods of work are the responsibility of the carpenter, using his or her expertise. Each job has a clear end, but the end of one job doesn't preclude your hiring the carpenter for another task. Thinking of my work at UU Church of Bloomington as parallel to that of a carpenter has helped to clarify how I work with the ministers of the church and also the nature of my relationship with the congregation. I am not one of the ministers of the church, but an outside minister hired to provide specific services as the needs of the ministers dictate.

In my conversations with people, I assure them that while I am hired on a contract basis, my family is a part of this religious community and that we have found a religious home here. That means that I am open to being hired for future projects, and that I will continue to be around, but at the moment, no one knows what our shared future will bring. For the most part, this seems to reassure people that I am not about to disappear when my contract is concluded, but to clarify that any future professional role in the congregation has not been decided upon.

I thank Rev. Leite for creating this analogy to help the congregation understand her involvement and we thank her for all of her wonderful work!

Thanks From The Shalom Center and Stepping Stones

We have received a nice note from the Shalom Center thanking us for the donations of food, warm clothing, toiletries, and diapers which we collected during our Procession of Giving service in December and delivered to the center. Our donations are being used and appreciated. They are helping to provide basic and essential services for the homeless and the very poor here in Bloomington. We also received a thank you card from the teens at Stepping Stones, letting us know how much they enjoyed opening and distributing our gifts of mops, brooms, clothes, personal items and gift cards. Thank you to everyone who participated in our procession!

Recent Activity of the Special Purposes Fund Committee

At the January quarterly meeting of the Special Purposes Fund Committee (SPF), the following requests were noted as evaluated and acted on for the most recent Quarter:

1. Receipt and acknowledgement of a donation toward replacement of the tree outside the circular window of the Meeting Room, from Tommie and Walt Owens.
2. Request for and support of the UU consultant Rev. Barbara Child, for the Vision and Planning program. A portion of this support is coming from the Robert Carter funds to support visiting ministers, because Rev. Child will be our guest in the pulpit on Feb. 12. The balance of the support came from the SPF General Endowment Funds.
3. Request for and support of the UU consultant Rev. M'ellen Kennedy, for the Small Group Ministries program. A portion of this support came from the Small Group Ministry budget in the Operating Budget, a portion came as a special gift to the SPF from Chris and Anne Haynes, and the balance came from the SPF General Endowment Funds.

There are many special memorial funds in the SPF account, and you may wish to add to one of them if their designations appeal to your interests for the Church. As examples, here are three of the Designated Purpose Fund lines in the SPF roster:

Jim Kamman Memorial Fund - For quiet space for reflection in the church; a new sign that proclaims the church's name on Fee Lane; plaques for memorial trees; archival niches in prominent places within the church.

Charles Vitaliano Fund - Assist Rev. Bill Breeden's ministry; updating the Memorial Plaque; toward purchase of the Belcher property; general church needs; stained glass window for the Meeting Room.

Frances Lockett Fund - Special expenses to make our property and programs more accessible to the physically handicapped; making the North side of the church more wheelchair accessible after completion of the Hwy 46 bypass construction; support of headsets for the hearing impaired and large print hymnals for the visually impaired.

Others are designated to provide support for music, social justice, grounds including landscaping, and special ministry, for example. Additional information on donations may be obtained from Diane Gregory, Bob Port, Andrew Appel, or Harlan Lewis.
