All Music Sunday: A Black Nativity by Keith McCutchen

Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church Choir Keith McCutchen, Director

Unitarian Universalist Church Choir Susan Swaney, Director

This Sunday's worship service will feature our annual holiday All Music Sunday.

A Black Nativity, inspired by Langston Hughes's Black Nativity, incorporates traditional Christmas themes, carols and spirituals, arranged in a gospel style by Keith McCutchen. Keith is currently director of the IU African American Choral Ensemble and is also music director at Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church. Our choir is collaborating with Bethel AME's choir, and the performance will feature Keith at the piano and members of the Bethel AME band. Reverend Mary Ann Macklin and Reverend Bill Breeden will facilitate the liturgy.

Earth Kin Annual Yule Celebration

With Solstice approaching on Dec. 22, we take time to reflect on the dark time and the meaning it holds for our lives. We will welcome the return of the sun, and celebrate afterwards with a feast of foods of the season and songs around our outdoor fire pit. Please bring food to share. This event is appropriate for adults and children ages 10 and older. No childcare will be available. Please plan to bring younger children to the Solstice Service planned for Sunday, Dec. 21 at 6:15p. Info: Beckie Wagner, elmbeckie@yahoo.com. Only a full-blown blizzard will cancel the Yule Celebration.

Sunday, December 21, 2008 9:00 and 11:15 a.m.

The Gifts We Bring

Rev. Emily Manvel Leite, Rev. Mary Ann Macklin, Rev. Bill Breeden

In this multigenerational service, we celebrate our ability to give in ways both big and small.

The celebration will include stories and songs (and a word find!), and will culminate in our annual Procession of Giving, where the whole congregation joins in a joyful parade of gifts for people in need. Please plan to bring a gift of mittens, hats, warm socks, non-perishable food, or the gift you selected from the Giving Tree. Everyone will be invited to contribute a "golden gift" of money, in amounts large or small, to benefit the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee and support their work around the world. This is the official Sunday to return Guest at Your Table Boxes!

The West Window

For those who attended the service on December 7, I offer one correction to the sermon. I stated that it was the first Sunday in Advent--it was the second. Christmas is actually much closer than I thought. Fortunately, we have other ministers in our congregation who catch things like that. I am always honored to know they are listening.

This Sunday, December 14th, at 4:00 p.m. there will be a congregational meeting. One of the items for discussion will be the draft statement on just peacemaking by the Commission on Social Witness to be presented to the General Assembly in Salt Lake in June. Our Just Peace Task Force has suggestions to strengthen that statement, but the process requires that comments come from congregations. I believe that this represents an opportunity for this congregation to encourage the national governing body of Unitarian Universalists to speak boldly to the issue of peace in our time. I also believe that ethical communities, both secular and spiritual, can no longer afford to straddle the moral fault lines of history. If we do not speak clearly and boldly for peace, we run the risk of finding ourselves more and more irrelevant in the eyes of a generation suffering the ravages of a perpetual state of war. Come let us reason together about this opportunity to be a witness for peace.

Rev. Macklin and I hope to see you at church Sunday morning for a very special service—see Page 1.

Parking and seating are easier at 9:00 a.m.

Green Your Holidays

The traditions with which we mark the various holidays we celebrate can have big impacts on the environment. Here are just a few tips to 'green your holidays':

Decorations: Let nature inspire your holiday centerpiece this year: Collect leaves or pinecones from your backyard to create a fall or winter display. Centerpieces of fruits and vegetables can be eaten later.

Invitations: If you are hosting a gathering, call or email invitees vs. using paper invites.

Cards: Same as above, creating an e-holiday card is fun!

Gifts: Challenge yourself this year to purchase products made from organic or recycled materials wrapped in minimal, recyclable packaging. Look for gifts that are long-lasting and durable or that can be given to someone else when the recipient has finished using it. Give gifts of your own time & talent or gift memberships to organizations you support. Buy gently used vs. new.

Wrapping: Reuse old wrapping paper, or make your own using grocery bags, tissue paper from shoe boxes, gift bags you have received, or other paper that you have around the house.

Feast Conscientiously: local, organic, consider meatless, less processed, etc.

Travel: Trains are a great option for traveling long distances at a leisurely pace. If you're planning to drive, try renting a hybrid or carpooling. If you must fly, consider buying offsets for your emissions. Coordinate your arrival time with other relatives to minimize the number of trips from the airport to the house.

Adult Religious Education Invites Proposals for Winter/Spring Courses

Part of the life of our church is adult religious education (ARE). Church members propose and facilitate (or co-facilitate) most of our offerings, both spiritual and secular, which in the past have covered a large range of topics of interest to members. ARE offerings are welcome on new topics that have not been offered before, as well as repeats of previous topics for which there is continuing interest.

The Adult Religious Education Committee invites you to submit a proposal for an ARE offering for this coming winter or spring, 2009. If you have a favorite area of interest that is relevant to ARE, let us know. A proposal form is available from the ARE box in the workroom, or electronically at <http://uubloomington.org/re/adult/index.php>. To allow time for adequate planning, please return completed forms by December 12 to the workroom (Room 204) ARE box, or email to are@uubloomington.org. The committee will review all proposals and contact you about your proposal.

You can view current and past ARE offerings at <http://uubloomington.org/re/adult/index.php>.

2008 Talent Auction Items Should be Completed Soon

As 2008 comes to a close, it is time to complete the services and talents donated and purchased at the 2008 UU Auction last March. We ask that all services be completed within one year of the date of the auction (by March 1, 2009). It is up to the buyer to contact the donor for the service purchased. Of course, if you are the donor and haven't heard from the buyer, you may want to contact that person. Unless both parties come to an agreement on a specific extension, purchases will be forfeited after one year. There may be extenuating circumstances that may necessitate an extension, but it is best for the buyer and donor to discuss this. This policy protects donors from building up multiple obligations for unclaimed items. Questions, Arzetta Hults Losensky at zetta@bluemarble.net or 812-824-1394 (after 12/29/08).

Holiday Greetings from the Stewardship Committee

The holiday season gives us a wonderful frame for reflecting on our remarkable spiritual community. At this time each year, our collective thoughts take refuge in that warm and wonderful space between gratitude and generosity. In keeping with this seasonal progression, we are thankful for our congregation's countless gifts of inspiration, comfort, and care. Our recent designation as a "Breakthrough Congregation" by the UUA is a perfect manifestation of the powerful sense of home and purpose so many have come to feel in this community, and is a tribute to all who have labored in its creation. Fitting to pair this gratitude with generosity; to move, with the seasons, from a sense of thanksgiving for all that we have and all that we have been given, towards a spirit of giving and meeting the needs of others. We will soon begin the work of renewing our pledged gifts to this church. As you enjoy this holiday season, we invite you to reflect on the paired joys of gifts given and gifts received.

The Stewardship Committee expresses its thanks for all the gifts this church has been given this past year. It is reassuring that, even in these difficult times, this place remains a home of both gratitude and generosity. We wish you all the warmest of holiday greetings.

Holiday Art Fair and Bazaar Kudos and Thanks to All!

The 50th UU Holiday Art Fair and Bazaar is now a sweet memory. It was a financial success, but much more than that, it was a testament to our spirit of community. The Bazaar Committee would like everybody to know that well over 100 people signed up for and worked one or more volunteer shifts during the two-day bazaar, and dozens and dozens more baked cookies, bread, and cakes, pickled green tomatoes, processed persimmons, made tubs of soups and tons of pies, donated books, knitted hats and scarves, dug up wonderful White Elephant treasures, shifted chairs, pushed brooms, put up flyers, and helped in so many other small and large ways. We wish we could thank you all personally. And we wish we could tell you how many visitors we had, but everyone agrees it was certainly many hundreds, and for many of them it was a happy discovery of UU hospitality. So warmest thanks to all who worked, played, purchased, or just hung out – And greetings of the season from your grateful Bazaar Committee. –Julie Lawson and Joanne Henriot, Co-chairs
